Criterion Nigeria has successfully provided maritime security services for diverse vessel types covering crude oil tankers, product tankers, bulk carriers, container vessels, offshore support vessels, and multipurpose cargo ships across high-risk waters of the Gulf of Guinea and broader West African maritime corridor.

PAST WORK EXPERIENCE

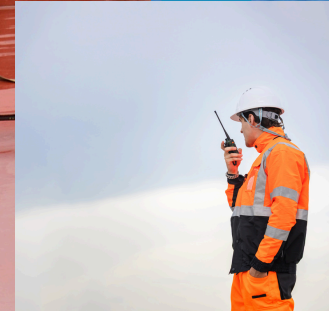

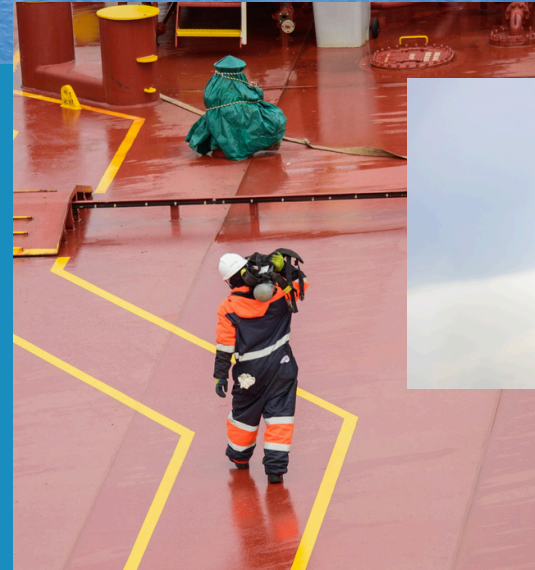

Our operational portfolio includes support to vessels managed by leading global shipping groups as well as independent tanker owners, commodity traders, and bulk carrier fleets. Each deployment was conducted in compliance with flag state requirements, coastal state regulations, and international maritime security best practices.

Across these engagements, Criterion provided armed and unarmed escort teams, secure transit planning, embarkation and disembarkation coordination, offshore escort vessel integration where required, and real-time intelligence support. Our teams maintained continuous communication with vessel masters and company security officers, ensuring rapid response capability and seamless voyage continuation through piracy-prone and security-sensitive areas.

This breadth of vessel types and client profiles demonstrates Criterion's proven capability to deliver reliable, discreet, and highly professional maritime security solutions tailored to the operational demands of commercial shipping in West Africa.
